

Letter of Authenticity

Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, Carnegie, and J.P. Morgan rose from obscurity and in the process built modern America. These men created the American Dream and were the engine of capitalism as they transformed everything they touched in building the oil, rail, steel, shipping, and finance industries. Their paths crossed repeatedly as they elected presidents, set economic policies and influenced major events of the fifty most formative years America has ever known. From the Civil War to the Great Depression and World War I, they led the way...

1837 J. P. MORGAN 1913
"Go as far as you can see; when you get there, you'll be able to see farther."

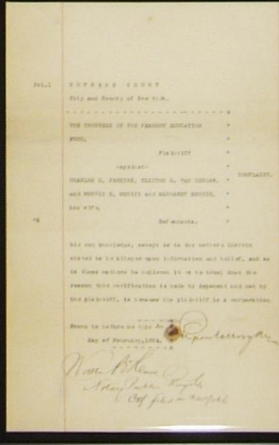

THE MEN WHO BUILT AMERICA
Roosevelt, Taft, Coolidge, and Hoover led the people into modern America. These men saved the American Dream and were the engine of capitalism as they transformed everything they touched in building the oil, steel, shipping, and finance industries. They paved the way for the modern world, and their influence and achievement are the very most important years America has ever known. From the Civil War to the Great Depression and World War I, they led the way.

1819 JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER 1922
"If you want to succeed, strike out on a new path, rather than tread the worn paths of accepted success."

1835 Andrew Carnegie
"The first man gets the oyster, the second man gets the shell."

1835 ANDREW CARNEGIE 1919
"The first man gets the oyster, the second man gets the shell."

1794 CORNELIUS VANDERBILT 1877
"You have undertaken to cheat me. I won't sue you, for the law is too slow. I'll ruin you."
